FEDERALS LOSE AT ANOTHER QUARTER

Associated Press.

Washingon, March 8.—The most significant of the sudden mobilization of a quarter of the United States army and a formidable portion of the navy along the Mexican frontier is gradually breaking out in Washington. There is no possibility of actual war, but this seems to be the situation as obtained from various sources.

Today, comparatively, the false statement that Mexico might have asked or commanded looking for American intervention for the settlement of the interior affairs of Mexico has sufficient means in armed forces to subdue the actual revolt.

The message was dated March 7 and was received at the Mexican consul yesterday.

"I see the same counsel I am advised which he has translated the message of minister crest."

"I think the papers are slandering their own government when they are attributing to them asperity and bad faith."

American and foreign interests are being protected as fully as we are able to do. We cannot give foreign people more protection than we do our own people yet the interests of foreigners have been respected by both sides as there is the foreign interests have suffered, the appeal for redress should be made in the proper way. A complaint should be filed with the state department of Mexico.

We know of no such complaints.

This Japanese thing is aantom. At any rate, we do not care. That is between you and Japan.

This movement was to take the form of massacres, but the interpretation which was instantly placed on the move by the newspapers and the people of the country disconcerted the administration and the president and his advisers hastened to relieve the tension in both countries by telegraphing an emphatic declaration of the harmless intent of the government.

Meanwhile a cursive information as to the real condition of affairs in Mexico, especially as to the health of President Diaz, is awaited in Washington with great interest.

Another dispatch last night from Mexico City referred to Diaz receiving Admiral Ladrill at 5 p.m. and later conferring with the governor of Guanajuato. No further advice has been received.

At Pass, March 8.—Arrance of the expected intervention by the United States in Mexican affairs, Federico Gómez, then general secretary of the revolutionary party and practically second in charge of the movement, has given an interview to the Herald, refusing to consider the possibility of armed intervention. Mr. Gómez said:

"I believe that the United States government only represents the American people for the national uprisings and that in view of the constant and eloquent expressions of sympathy of the American people for the national uprising in Mexico, the idea of armed intervention by the United States government cannot be conceived."

"We cannot for a moment consider it, because the very idea of suspending a division between the American people and the United States government would be as much as to inflict an offence to a nation which is considered as one of the most civilized of the earth and in which the other nations are accustomed to have their will obeyed."

Representative Drives Engine Onto Derailed Track to Prove Faith in New Device

Washington, D. C., March 9.—Just to demonstrate his confidence in the invention of a friend from the south, Representative William H. Craig of Alabama donned overalls, climbed into an engine cab, and while route other congressmen looked on drove the engine down a stretch of track across a gash in a derailed section of the track. Craig was not hurt and wanted to do it again, but the other congressmen had enough and us was induced to allow the ride to go through with the rest of the program.

Representative Bill Craig, as he is known, is a railroad man by trade. Since the outbreak of trouble he has made his residence in San Antonio, but the central location of El Paso does not seem to be his headquarters.

Mr. Craig was formerly a well-known attorney of Monroe city. Since the outbreak of trouble he has made his residence in San Antonio, but the central location of El Paso does not seem to be his headquarters.
